HEADLINE: Options stock-up, shares sell-down

AUTHOR: Nina Wan

'Inside plays' in the Australia Stock Exchange seem to be rife with company directors buying and selling their own shares at preciously the right moment. Directors from the United States based-maker of sleeping medication, Res Med stocked up on shares in mid-November and sold their shares in the weeks that followed. John Percival, executive director at mineral exploration company Goldsearch offloaded 1.82 million shares at the beginning of January, then the company announced a drilling venture so Mr Percival sold 945,000 options at 12.24 cents each in early December. A series of other companies and directors are mentioned in similar circumstances. These include, company ERG Duncan Saville, Alto Energy International, AWB managing director, CBH Resources, Hillgrove Resources, Coates Hire and Zinifex.
