

Media Monitoring

27 June 2007

Petroleum News

<http://www.petroleumnews.net/StoryView.asp?StoryID=100888>

---

US-FOCUSED junior Alto Energy has received shareholder approval to change its name to Grand Gulf Energy Ltd.

It has reserved the ASX code GGE. Subject to ASIC and ASX approvals this will be effective by about July 1.

Grand Gulf Energy managing director and chief executive officer James Trimble said the name change reflects the company's new focus on low-risk, conventional oil and gas plays in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

"Our primary focus at the moment is on the aggressive exploration and development of the Foothills Joint Venture in Oklahoma and the Phase 3B drilling program and Napoleonville Salt Dome 3D seismic project in Louisiana," Trimble said.

"With our new focus, and the recent success of our first three new wells, the name change is very timely."